84 years old today. Brighter and better as the days go. God is love, his mercy is ever lasting, praise His Holy Name; let every body praise him.

85 years old to day. Sweeter and more precious is his love as years go by. Prais His Holy Name.

6-17-25 86. I can bear witness to the truth, God is Love. it endureth forever.

Mary Eleanor Shirley-Coalson passed away on March 28 1928, before she would have been 90 on June 17.

Part of the above had been typed from what Grandma had written, and the 6-17-25 addition was in her feeble handwriting, but still easily read.

On the outside fold, she had written "Carl C. Coalson", indicating that this copy should come to my father. That was 58 years ago, plus, and the paper, now old and becoming brittle, has been tucked back in the even more brittle envelope and has been slipped in the KUHN Bible. for safer keeping, now that is has been typed for these endeavors.
